

Between Art and Made in Italy: the typical craft of Reggio Emilia

A fascinating journey to discover the decoration from its origins to the contemporary art and its sources of inspiration.

Two days to discover Reggio Emilia and the art it hosts. Starting from the handicraft of the territory, passing through the union between art and madness, we cannot help but surprise ourselves with the wonders that the city offers us.

We will stay in Reggio Emilia, the City of the Tricolor, in the heart of its historical center, where art, history and tradition are combined with modern comforts. We will begin our journey in a historic workshop, specializing in the artistic and creative Made in Italy ... An artisan technique handed down from father to son in Reggio Emilia tradition between antiquity and modernity.

We will be immersed in the wonders of the exhibition "What a Wonderful World" at Palazzo Magnani, a fascinating and unprecedented journey through the centuries, to understand how much the decoration and ornament tell about Reggio Emilia and the world. An ancient form of art to help patients whose care was taken by Maria Del Rio, the Ars Canusina. Today, the Museum of the History of Psychiatry becomes the place to revive and learn about these refined objects of artistic craftsmanship.

In the evening, at dinner, we will taste the typical Emilian cuisine, a perfect synthesis of territory and local craftsmanship. But that's not all! It is time to discover the City of Correggio, the place where the homonymous painter lived, retracing the streets and arcades that made this place so magical and stimulating for the painter.

We will have lunch in a local restaurant based on typical products, enjoying the special flavors of the area.
