

Living the Po River: an itinerary to discover the Great River

A journey that will lead you to discover the so-called "Bassa Reggiana", also known as simply the "Bassa", as defined by the Reggio Emilia people. This land is a part of the territory in Reggio Emilia province, which extends for about 10 kilometers, in a strip that runs along the right bank of the Po river (the longest river in Italy). The territories along the Great River were declared UNESCO Biosphere Reserve MaB for protecting the biodiversity, here you will explore and admire the unique unspoiled nature with enchanting landscapes, without forgetting the typical flavors of this land. Authentic flavors and excellent food and wine, the careful recovery of production methods that look to the past and the constant commitment to the protection of traditions.
